Once upon a time, there was a unicorn named Una. She saw a girl named Lena and Lena saw the unicorn.

Lena invited Una to her rainbow castle for a sleepover.

The next morning, Una got sick!

Lena said, "What happened?"

Una said, "I got sick."

The unicorn had eaten an apple that was made of candy. She thought it was a good food but someone tricked her.

Una got done telling Lena her story of what happened. Lena was so worried so Lena did her best to take care of Una. She made her chicken noodle soup. Una was sick for a little bit of days.

Lena asked, "Would you like to live with me?"
Una said, "Yes!"

Lena's cousins came over for a sleepover and she introduced Una to her cousins.

Lena told her cousins that Una was sick and the next morning, the girls asked Una if she felt better.

Una was so happy because she said yes that she felt better.
They had the best playday ever!
