

Mittens and Cocoa

By: Helina Goodwin

Mittens is a kitten who is tiny.

She was found living under a porch.

Cocoa is a tortoiseshell cat who lives in my home. She was a gift from Santa Claus.

My family rescued Mittens and brought her home in a box.

It made me happy to bring

Mittens home.

When we got home with Mittens, she went under our Christmas tree. Cocoa ran to where Mittens was. Cocoa hissed at Mittens, ran upstairs and hid.

While hiding, Cocoa

noticed she was all alone

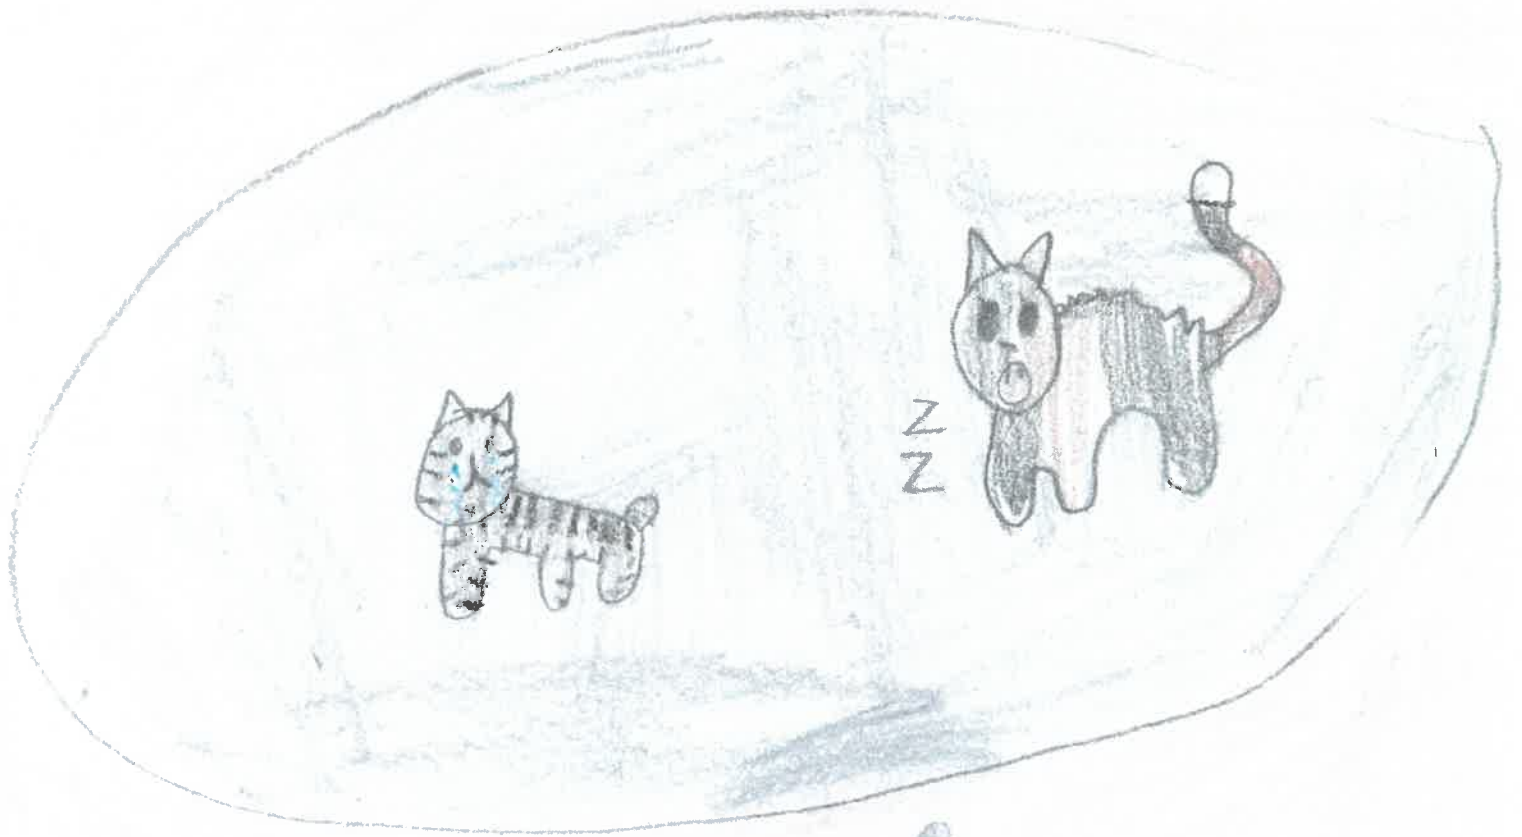

and didn't have any friends.

She was sad and felt bad for the way she treated

Mittens.

The next day Mittens went upstairs to find Cocoa. They started playing together.

Cocoa learned life is better with friends. Mittens and Cocoa are now best friends.

The End
