

Once, there was a little princess named Haymes. She wanted two things:
to be a knight and to have a dog.

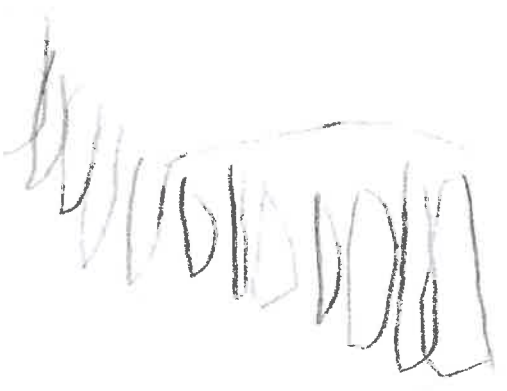

Her mommy and daddy told her that being a knight was too dangerous.
Haymes did not care.

She played her video game, Smash Fighters, and her knight always won. Anyways, Haymes was 5 years old and totally old enough to become a knight.

Haymes had been working hard on her armor, shield, and weapons. Every package delivered to the castle was quickly opened by Haymes, so that she could use the cardboard.

One thing every knight needs is a mount. Haymes also wanted a dog. If she got a big dog, it could be her noble steed!

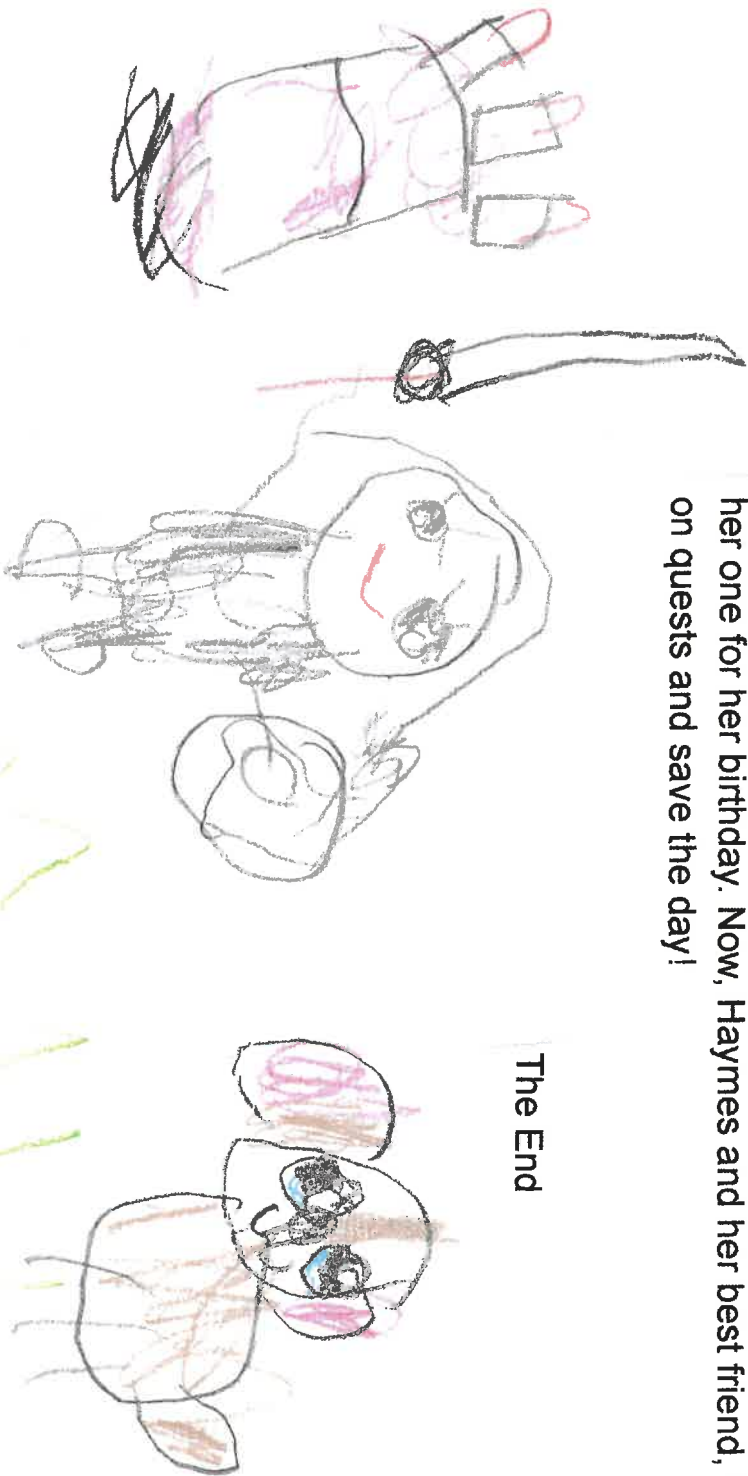

Haymes had been doing her research. She wanted a dog big enough to carry her and friendly enough to play with her. It would be her best friend!

STEFED

Her mommy and daddy saw how much Haymes wanted a dog. They got her one for her birthday. Now, Haymes and her best friend, Keys, could go on quests and save the day!
