

The Wild Universe

By: Talon Sparks

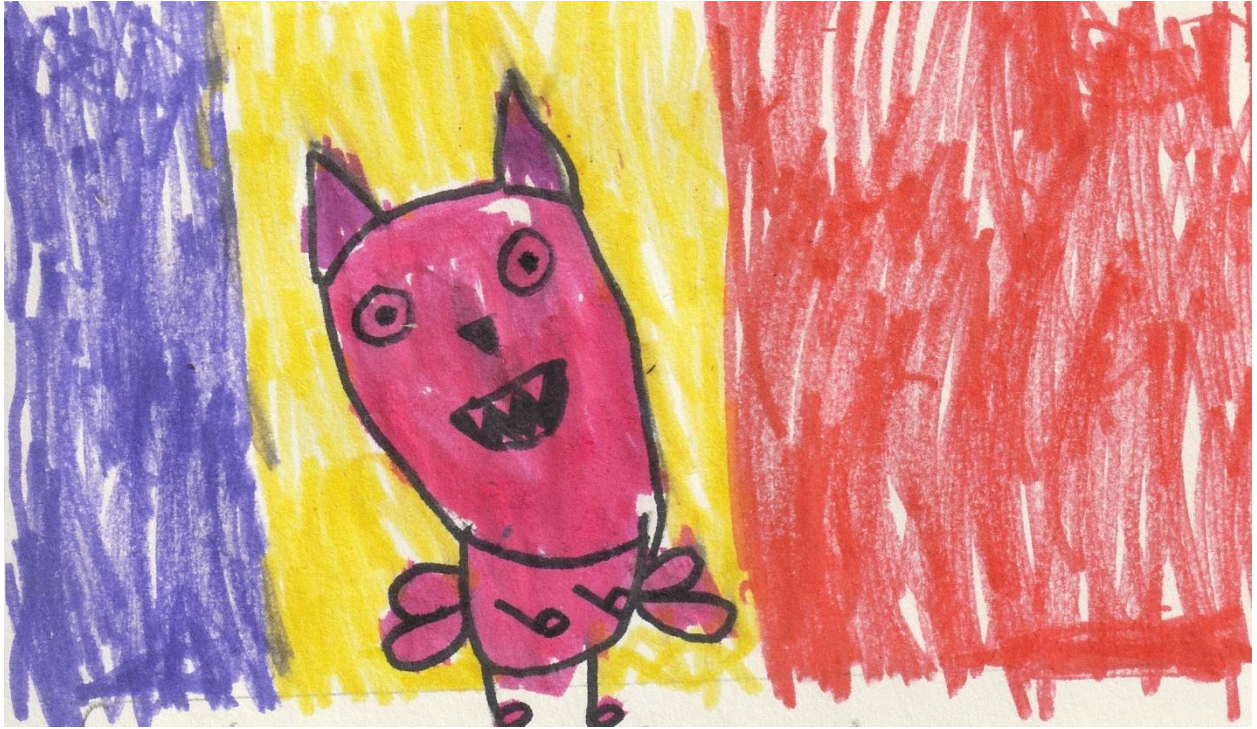

One night, a boy named Skylar woke up to a bright light shining under his bed. It was a portal. He crawled through it.

The world was different on the other side. There were strange creatures. Skylar felt scared. He tried to go back, but the portal was gone.

A pink cat with wings and sharp teeth flew down from the sky and grabbed Skylar. He put him in a cage made of vines because he thought Skylar was dangerous.

Skylar said, “I don’t want to hurt anyone. I just want to be friends!” The cat didn’t believe him.

From the cage, Skylar saw tons of creatures. Walking trees with hundreds of eyes, fan monsters with spinning heads, giants covered in black vines, and many more.

After a few days, the cat and Skylar trusted each other. Even though the creatures were scary looking, they were nice. The pink cat let Skylar go and told him he could come back any time.

Skylar went home. But every day after that, he went back to The Wild Universe to play with his new friends.
