

The Jungle Adventures

Written and Illustrated by
Jacklyn Loy

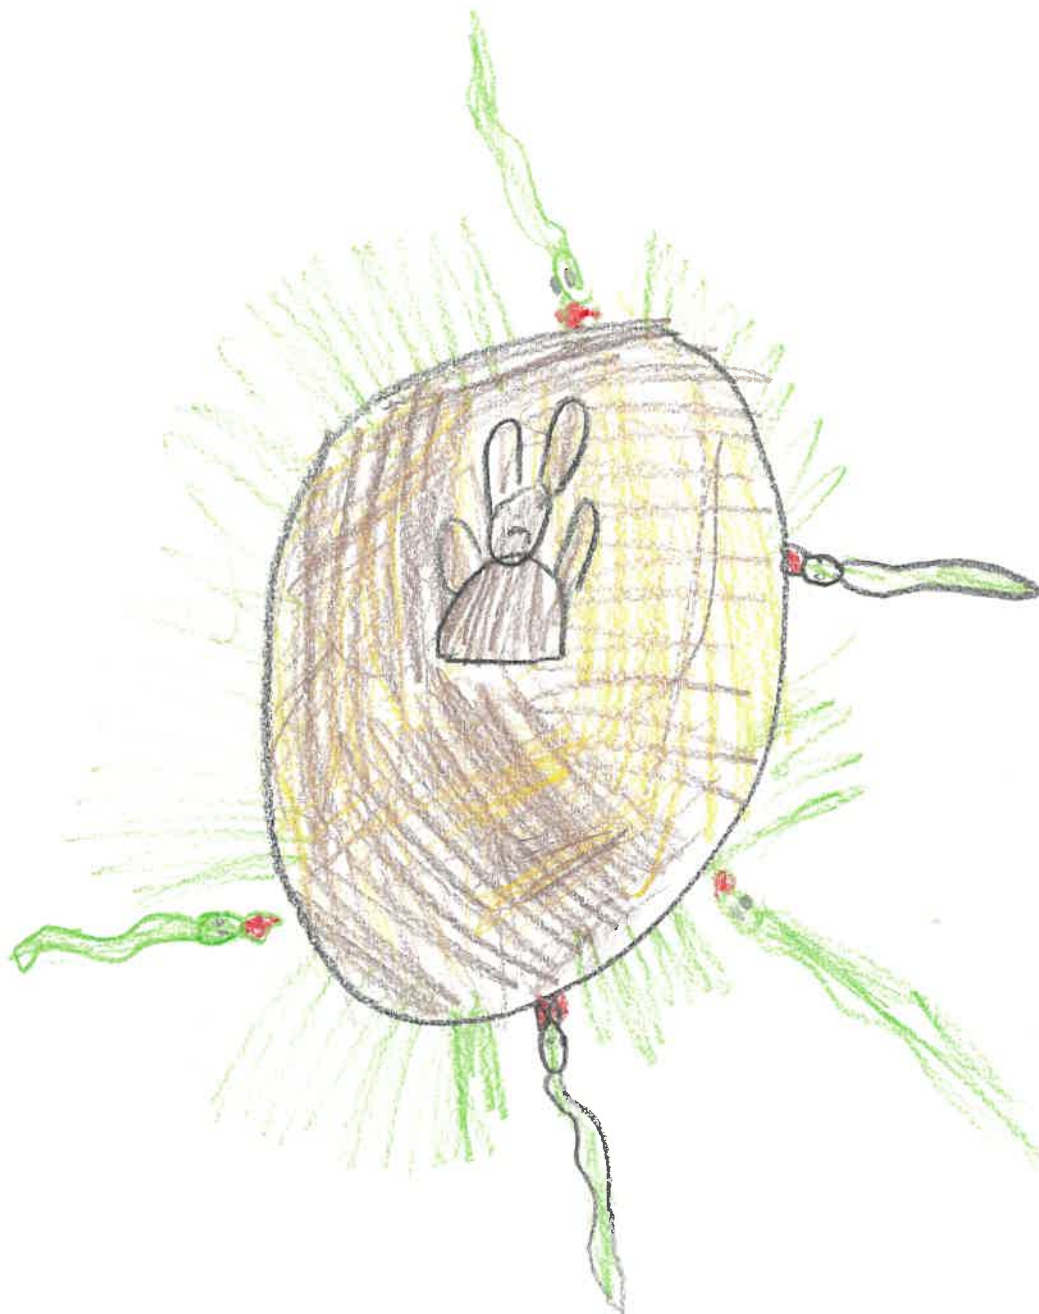

One day there was a bunny and her friends and they were all animals.

They were going to explore the jungle and then the bunny fell into a pit.

There were 5 snakes going to eat her but the snakes didn't get to her in time.

And then all the bunny's friends saved her by using a rope and then the butterfly and the bee and all the animals had to pull and pull the bunny out.

But they didn't know how to get across because the pit was too big. Then they figured something out. The bee and the butterfly had to use the rope and pull all the animals across.

